

OVERLOAD

Meaning: Overload refers to the act of putting too much burden or demand on a system or individual, resulting in stress or failure to function effectively.

1. The team decided to overload the system during testing to identify potential weaknesses.
2. She felt an emotional overload after receiving both good and bad news in a single day.
3. To avoid an overload of information, the presenter used simple visuals to convey her message.
4. The power grid experienced an overload, resulting in widespread outages across the city.
5. His schedule was so packed that he worried he might overload himself with too many commitments.
6. The electrical system began to fail under the increasing load, leading to an overload situation.
7. In her effort to please everyone, she found herself facing an emotional overload that was hard to manage.
8. The software crashed due to an overload of incoming data during the peak hours.
9. Overloading the truck beyond its weight limit can cause serious safety hazards on the road.
10. He struggled to meet all his deadlines, resulting in an overload of work that left him feeling overwhelmed.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overload>