

OVERLOOK

Meaning: To overlook means to disregard or fail to notice something, often due to focusing on something else.

1. The architect chose to overlook the small flaws in the design to focus on the overall vision.
2. She couldn't help but overlook the beauty of the sunset while rushing to her meeting.
3. Despite the numerous details in the report, the manager decided to overlook a few minor errors.
4. It's easy to overlook the significance of small moments in life when you're always looking ahead.
5. The committee chose to overlook his previous mistakes, recognizing his potential for growth.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overlook>