

OVERPROVIDENT

Meaning: Overprovident: excessively generous or attentive in providing for others, often to the point of being counterproductive or overwhelming.

1. The overprovident nature of her parenting often led to her children feeling stifled rather than supported.
2. In his overprovident efforts to ensure everyone was satisfied, the manager unintentionally created confusion among the team.
3. She was often criticized for being overprovident, as her desire to help sometimes overshadowed the needs of others.
4. The overprovident measures taken by the organization resulted in an impressive but unsustainable level of output.
5. Despite his overprovident tendencies, he learned that sometimes it's better to let others find their own way.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overprovident>