

OVERVALUE

Meaning: OVERVALUE: To assign a higher worth or importance to something than it actually has, often influenced by subjective factors or temporary conditions.

1. Many investors tend to overvalue companies based on short-term performance.
2. It's easy to overvalue a piece of art when emotions cloud our judgment.
3. The market often overvalues tech stocks during periods of high speculation.
4. Critics argue that the film's success is due to hype rather than its actual quality, suggesting it may be overvalued.
5. In a competitive job market, candidates can sometimes overvalue their experience and skills.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overvalue>