

PAGE

Meaning: PAGE (noun): A single side of a sheet of paper in a book, magazine, or other written work.

1. The final page of the book revealed a surprising twist in the plot.
2. She quickly turned the page, eager to see what would happen next.
3. The teacher asked the students to write a summary on a separate page.
4. After hours of research, he finally found the article on the website's page.
5. Her scrapbook was filled with memories, each page telling a different story.
6. She turned the page of the book, eager to discover what happened next.
7. The website was so well designed that every page felt like an immersive experience.
8. Please make sure to save that page before you navigate away from the document.
9. He found an old photograph tucked between the pages of a dusty album.
10. The teacher asked the students to write their notes on the last page of their notebooks.
11. She turned the page of the book, eager to see what would happen next.
12. The artist carefully painted each page of the illustrated manuscript.
13. After hours of research, he finally filled the blank page with his ideas.
14. The website's homepage features a stunning layout that captures visitors' attention.
15. He flipped through the pages of his notebook, looking for the right quote to use.
16. She flipped to the next page of the book, eager to see what happened next.
17. The teacher asked the students to write their essays on a single page.
18. After hours of research, he finally found a page that contained the information he needed.
19. The website's homepage featured a bright design that immediately captured visitors' attention.
20. He carefully examined the old manuscript, noting the faded ink on the yellowed page.

