

PAPESCENT

Meaning: PAPESCENT: adjective describing leaves or flowers that are soft, tender, or slightly drooping, often due to moisture or humidity.

1. The papescent leaves of the plant began to droop under the weight of the morning dew.
2. In the humid climate, the papescent flowers thrived, their vibrant colors attracting a variety of pollinators.
3. As autumn approached, the papescent fruits started to soften, signaling that they were ripe for harvest.
4. The gardener marveled at the papescent growth of the vines, which seemed to reach for the sun with fervor.
5. With careful cultivation, the once dry soil became papescent, teeming with life and new possibilities.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/papescent>