

PARALYSIS

Meaning: Paralysis is the loss of the ability to move one or more parts of the body, often due to nerve damage or injury.

1. The sudden paralysis of her left side was a shocking diagnosis for the young athlete.
2. After the accident, he experienced temporary paralysis, leaving him unable to move his legs.
3. The emotional paralysis that followed the traumatic event made it difficult for her to engage with others.
4. Doctors were hopeful that physical therapy would help him recover from the paralysis caused by the stroke.
5. The fear of public speaking often leads to a kind of paralysis, where individuals freeze up and cannot express their thoughts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/paralysis>