

PARAMORPHISM

Meaning: Paramorphism is the process in geology by which a mineral transforms into another mineral with a different composition, typically occurring in the context of metamorphic rock evolution.

1. Paramorphism in geology refers to the transformation of a mineral into another mineral with a different composition.
2. The concept of paramorphism is often discussed in the context of metamorphic rocks and their evolution.
3. In linguistics, paramorphism can describe the adaptation of a word to fit different grammatical contexts.
4. Understanding paramorphism can provide deeper insights into the processes of mineralogical change.
5. The study of paramorphism can reveal how environmental factors influence the properties of materials over time.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/paramorphism>