

PASSIM

Meaning: 'Passim' is an adverb used in academic writing to indicate that a topic or reference appears in various places throughout a text.

1. The term 'passim' is often used in academic writing to indicate that a concept appears in multiple locations throughout a text.
2. In his book, the author references this theory passim, suggesting its widespread influence on the subject.
3. Many scholars have cited the findings passim, reinforcing their significance across various disciplines.
4. The phenomenon is discussed passim in the literature, highlighting its relevance in different contexts.
5. The historian's analysis incorporates primary sources passim, illustrating the multifaceted nature of the events.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/passim>