

PATHOGNOMONIC

Meaning: Pathognomonic refers to a sign or symptom that is uniquely characteristic of a particular disease or condition, indicating its presence.

1. The presence of a specific rash can be pathognomonic for certain autoimmune diseases.
2. In the context of infectious diseases, a pathognomonic sign can significantly aid in diagnosis.
3. The doctor noted the pathognomonic symptoms that suggested a rare genetic disorder.
4. For some cancers, particular imaging findings are considered pathognomonic and help confirm the diagnosis.
5. Identifying pathognomonic features in a patient's history can streamline the diagnostic process.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pathognomonic>