

PEDANTY

Meaning: Pedantry refers to an excessive concern with minor details or rules, often to the point of being tedious or dull.

1. The teacher's pedantry often bored the students, who craved more engaging discussions.
2. In his quest for perfection, he became known for his pedanty, correcting even the smallest errors.
3. Her pedanty was evident in her insistence on following every rule to the letter during the project.
4. While some appreciated his attention to detail, others found his pedanty off-putting and overly critical.
5. The article was filled with pedanty, leaving readers confused rather than informed about the main topic.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pedanty>