

PETITIONARILY

Meaning: In a manner characterized by making a formal request or appeal, often expressing urgency or concern.

1. The residents spoke petitionarily during the town hall meeting, urging the council to reconsider the new development plan.
2. She addressed the board petitionarily, emphasizing the urgent need for more funding for mental health services.
3. In a petitionarily tone, the students demanded better facilities and resources from the administration.
4. The community came together petitionarily, gathering signatures to support their cause for environmental protection.
5. He wrote to the mayor petitionarily, outlining the issues faced by local businesses during the pandemic.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/petitionarily>