

PHLOGOTIC

Meaning: Phlogotic refers to a condition characterized by inflammation, particularly in response to infection or injury.

1. The phlogotic response to the infection indicated a severe inflammatory reaction.
2. In medical literature, the term 'phlogotic' often describes tissues that are undergoing inflammation.
3. The patient's phlogotic condition necessitated immediate intervention to prevent further complications.
4. Researchers studied the phlogotic characteristics of various diseases to better understand their underlying mechanisms.
5. Despite the phlogotic symptoms, the doctor remained optimistic about the patient's recovery.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/phlogotic>