

PHOTOTYPIC

Meaning: Phototypic refers to the observable traits or characteristics of organisms, particularly in relation to their adaptations to environmental conditions.

1. The phototypic variations among the species highlight the impact of their environmental adaptations.
2. Researchers studied the phototypic characteristics of plants to better understand their evolutionary pathways.
3. In the world of art, phototypic techniques are used to create stunning visual representations of landscapes.
4. The phototypic response of organisms to light can influence their growth patterns significantly.
5. By analyzing phototypic traits, scientists can identify the genetic factors that contribute to biodiversity.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/phototypic>