

PHOTOTYPOGRAPHY

Meaning: Phototypography is a printing process that uses photographic techniques to reproduce text and images, significantly enhancing the production of printed materials.

1. Phototypography has revolutionized the way we produce printed materials.
2. In the realm of graphic design, phototypography offers unique advantages over traditional typesetting.
3. The artist utilized phototypography to create intricate and visually striking layouts for the exhibition.
4. With the advent of digital technology, phototypography has become more accessible to amateur designers.
5. Many educators emphasize the importance of phototypography in understanding modern printing techniques.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/phototypography>