

PIG-HEADED

Meaning: Pig-headed: stubbornly refusing to change one's mind or consider other viewpoints, often despite clear evidence or reasoning.

1. She was so pig-headed about her opinions that she refused to listen to anyone else's perspective.
2. Even though the evidence was clear, his pig-headed nature led him to stick to his original claims.
3. The pig-headed refusal to compromise made the negotiation process painfully lengthy.
4. Despite the team's suggestions, his pig-headed attitude prevented any chance of collaboration.
5. Her pig-headed determination to prove him wrong ultimately backfired and caused more harm than good.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pig-headed>