

PINCH

Meaning: Pinch: a small, often measured amount of something, typically used in cooking or to describe a slight, sudden feeling or sensation.

1. She felt a sudden pinch of regret after turning down the job offer.
2. The chef advised to add a pinch of salt to enhance the dish's flavor.
3. He gave her arm a playful pinch, causing her to laugh.
4. During the hike, a sharp pinch of pain shot through his ankle.
5. The child learned to pinch the dough carefully to create a beautiful pastry.
6. She felt a sharp pinch on her arm from the mosquito that had landed there.
7. He decided to pinch a bit of time from his busy schedule to help his friend.
8. The chef told me to pinch some salt into the dish for extra flavor.
9. As she laughed, he playfully gave her a gentle pinch on the cheek.
10. The fabric was so tight that it seemed to pinch her waist uncomfortably.
11. She felt a sudden pinch of regret as she watched the opportunity slip away.
12. He gave the dough a gentle pinch to test its elasticity before rolling it out.
13. The child let out a squeal after his sister playfully pinched his arm.
14. With a pinch of salt, the chef enhanced the flavors of the dish beautifully.
15. As the sun began to set, the cold breeze made her feel a pinch of nostalgia.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pinch>