

PINCHER

Meaning: A 'pincher' is a claw or gripping appendage used by certain animals, such as crabs, to grasp or defend themselves, or informally, a person's fingers used to pinch or grip something.

1. The crab scuttled sideways, using its strong pincher to defend itself against predators.
2. As I reached for the cookie jar, my younger brother playfully pinched my arm with his little fingers.
3. The detective examined the evidence with a pincher, carefully retrieving the tiny piece of fabric without contaminating the scene.
4. She felt a sharp pinch on her skin as the insect used its pincher to grasp her tightly.
5. With a quick pincher grasp, the fisherman caught the slippery fish before it could escape back into the water.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pincher>