

PLEBICOLIST

Meaning: Plebicolist: a person who advocates for the interests and needs of the common people, often in contrast to the elite or privileged classes.

1. The plebicolist made a compelling case for the needs of the common people during the town hall meeting.
2. In her speech, she embraced the role of a plebicolist, advocating for policies that would benefit the majority rather than the elite.
3. His writings often reflect the perspective of a plebicolist, challenging the status quo and championing grassroots movements.
4. As a committed plebicolist, she rallied her community to demand greater representation in local government.
5. The concept of a plebicolist has gained traction among activists who prioritize the voices of ordinary citizens in political discourse.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/plebicolist>