

PLUMBIC

Meaning: Plumbic refers to a chemical state or compound containing lead, particularly in a form that indicates lead's higher oxidation state, often associated with lead(II) compounds.

1. The ancient artifact was found to contain a plumbic alloy, hinting at advanced metallurgical techniques.
2. In the realm of chemistry, plumbic compounds are often studied for their unique properties and potential applications.
3. The artist chose a plumbic pigment for its rich, deep hue that added depth to the painting.
4. During the experiment, the plumbic solution exhibited unexpected reactions with various substances.
5. Regulations regarding plumbic materials have become increasingly stringent due to health concerns.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/plumbic>