

PLUNK

Meaning: Plunk (verb): to drop or place something heavily or abruptly; to sit down heavily.

1. He plunked himself down on the couch after a long day at work.
2. The child watched in delight as the big rock plunked into the pond, sending ripples across the water.
3. She plunked the last piece of puzzle into place, completing the picture.
4. With a loud plunk, the heavy book fell from the shelf and landed on the floor.
5. As they played music, he would plunk away at the piano, experimenting with different melodies.
6. She watched as the stone made a satisfying plunk as it hit the surface of the water.
7. After a long day, he let himself plunk down on the couch with a sigh of relief.
8. The child giggled as he made the toy plunk into the bucket with a splash.
9. With a plunk, the fish jumped out of the water, surprising everyone on the boat.
10. As the last note faded away, the pianist let his hands plunk onto the keys for a moment of silence.
11. He watched the stone plunk into the pond, sending ripples across the surface.
12. She felt a sense of relief as she plunked down on the couch after a long day.
13. The child plunked his toy cars onto the floor, creating a cacophony of sounds.
14. With a satisfying plunk, the acorn fell from the tree and landed on the ground.
15. She plunked her guitar on her lap and began to strum a familiar tune.