

POINT-BLANK

Meaning: Point-blank refers to a position or manner that is very close, direct, or straightforward, often used in the context of asking questions or shooting.

1. She looked at him point-blank and asked if he was lying.
2. The soldier fired point-blank at the target, ensuring a direct hit.
3. During the confrontation, he delivered the criticism point-blank, without any sugarcoating.
4. The journalist asked the politician point-blank about the scandal, catching him off guard.
5. In the heated debate, her point-blank remarks stunned the audience into silence.
6. He shot the target point-blank, ensuring it was an easy hit.
7. The defendant was caught on camera making a point-blank confession to the crime.
8. She delivered her criticism point-blank, leaving no room for misinterpretation.
9. At point-blank range, the soldier could not miss his target.
10. The teacher asked the question point-blank, prompting an honest response from the student.
11. The marksman fired at point-blank range, ensuring a direct hit.
12. She delivered her critique at point-blank, leaving no room for misinterpretation.
13. The suspect was captured on camera, standing point-blank from the security guard.
14. At point-blank distance, the argument became heated and emotionally charged.
15. He asked her the question point-blank, revealing his intent to know the truth.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/point-blank>