

POWDER-POSTED

Meaning: Powder-posted refers to wood that has been damaged by wood-boring beetles, characterized by the presence of fine powdery frass resulting from their tunneling activity.

1. The old wooden beams in the attic were powder-posted, indicating a serious infestation of wood-boring beetles.
2. After discovering the powder-posted areas in the furniture, the homeowner knew it was time to call in an exterminator.
3. The carpenter explained that powder-posted wood is a sign of damage that could compromise the integrity of the structure.
4. It was alarming to learn that the beautiful antique table had been powder-posted, as it suggested years of unnoticed pests.
5. The restoration team had to carefully assess the powder-posted sections of the house to prevent further damage.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/powder-posted>