

PRECONSIGN

Meaning: To preconsign means to prepare and designate goods for shipment in advance, ensuring they comply with necessary regulations and facilitating faster delivery.

1. Before we can ship the products, we need to preconsign them to ensure they meet all regulatory requirements.
2. The logistics team decided to preconsign the packages to speed up the delivery process.
3. To avoid delays at customs, the merchandise was preconsigned with all necessary documentation.
4. The company implemented a new system to preconsign shipments more efficiently.
5. By choosing to preconsign their goods, the seller was able to provide better tracking information to the buyer.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/preconsign>