

PREDICATING

Meaning: Predicating refers to the act of establishing or asserting a statement or argument based on specific evidence or logical foundations.

1. Predicating her argument on solid evidence, she managed to convince the jury of her client's innocence.
2. The teacher emphasized the importance of predicating statements logically to avoid confusion in discussions.
3. He was careful in predicating his claims with thorough research to ensure credibility.
4. Predicating their relationship on trust and communication, they found it flourished over time.
5. In philosophy, predicating attributes about a subject is essential for forming valid propositions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/predicating>