

PREFERMENT

Meaning: Preferment refers to the act of promoting or advancing someone to a higher position or status, often within an organization.

1. His years of hard work finally led to his preferment within the company.
2. The preferment of certain candidates over others sparked controversy among the staff.
3. She was grateful for the preferment she received after her successful project presentation.
4. Preferment in academic circles often depends on both merit and networking.
5. The board's decision on preferment was influenced by the candidates' past achievements.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/preferment>