

PREOCCUPY

Meaning: To preoccupy means to dominate or absorb someone's thoughts or attention to the extent that it leaves little room for other considerations.

1. Her thoughts were preoccupied with the upcoming exam, leaving little room for anything else.
2. The constant news about the pandemic seemed to preoccupy everyone's mind these days.
3. He found it hard to concentrate on his work, as his personal issues continued to preoccupy him.
4. Even during the meeting, she appeared preoccupied, glancing at her phone more than listening to the discussion.
5. The mystery novel was so gripping that it completely preoccupied his evening.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/preoccupy>