

PRETENSED

Meaning: 'PRETENSED' refers to the act of feigning or pretending to have a particular quality or feeling, often to deceive others.

1. She pretended confidence during the presentation, despite her nervousness.
2. In a clever act of deception, he pretended enthusiasm for the project he secretly loathed.
3. The child pretended a family reunion, creating an elaborate story about their imaginary relatives.
4. As the actors began their scene, they pretended familiarity to make their interactions more believable.
5. Even though she was upset, she pretended happiness at the party to avoid drawing attention to her feelings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pretensed>