

PUNCTICULAR

Meaning: PUNCTICULAR (adjective): characterized by a meticulous attention to minute details or specifics.

1. The artist's style was puncticular, focusing on the minute details that brought her paintings to life.
2. In his puncticular approach to gardening, every leaf and petal was meticulously cared for.
3. Her puncticular observations during the lecture revealed insights that many of her peers had missed.
4. The report was noted for its puncticular analysis of the data, leaving no stone unturned.
5. Despite the chaos around him, his puncticular nature allowed him to find clarity in the disorder.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/puncticular>