

PURPORT

Meaning: Purport (verb): to intend or claim to convey a particular meaning or purpose, often without substantiation.

1. The author's purport was to challenge societal norms through his provocative writing.
2. Despite the claims made in the advertisement, the product's purport was largely exaggerated.
3. Her speech seemed to purport a vision of unity and cooperation among the diverse groups.
4. The legal document did not clearly purport the intentions of the parties involved.
5. Many critics argue that the film's purport is overshadowed by its commercial appeal.
6. The document purports to be an official decree from the government.
7. She claimed to have evidence that purports the innocence of the accused.
8. The teacher emphasized that the painting's purport goes beyond mere aesthetics.
9. His argument purports to challenge the established theories in the field.
10. Many critics argue that the film's purport is lost amidst its convoluted plot.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/purport>