

PUS

Meaning: Pus is a thick, yellowish or greenish fluid produced in infected tissue, consisting of dead white blood cells, bacteria, and tissue debris.

1. The doctor examined the wound and noticed pus indicating an infection.
2. After a few days, the cut became red and started to ooze pus, alarming her.
3. He was advised to keep the area clean to prevent further pus buildup.
4. The presence of pus is often a sign that the body is fighting off an infection.
5. She winced at the sight of the pus, realizing she needed to see a medical professional.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/pus>