

PUT-OFF

Meaning: Put-off (noun): something that discourages or dissuades someone from taking action or having a favorable impression.

1. The loud noise from the construction site was a real put-off for potential buyers.
2. Her rude comments during the meeting were enough to put off several team members.
3. I was initially excited about the trip, but the bad weather forecast put me off.
4. The long wait at the restaurant was a major put-off, making us reconsider our dining choice.
5. His disinterest in the project quickly became a put-off for everyone involved.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/put-off>