

QUAVER

Meaning: Quaver: to tremble or shake in one's voice, often due to emotion or nervousness.

1. Her voice began to quaver as she recounted the emotional story.
2. The young actor's performance was marked by a quaver that added depth to his character.
3. He tried to hide the quaver in his voice, but his nerves betrayed him.
4. As the violinist played, the notes would often quaver, creating a haunting melody.
5. The old man spoke with a quaver, reminiscing about his lost love with great tenderness.
6. The singer's voice began to quaver as she reached the high note.
7. He tried to sound confident, but his voice would quaver whenever he spoke in public.
8. The quaver in her voice revealed her nervousness during the interview.
9. As the wind picked up, the flag began to quaver in the breeze.
10. The musician added a slight quaver to his performance, giving it a unique flair.
11. The singer's voice began to quaver as she reached the high notes.
12. In the tense moment, his voice would quaver slightly, betraying his nerves.
13. As the violinist played, the sound would quaver beautifully, adding emotion to the piece.
14. She had a tendency to quaver when speaking in public, which made her feel self-conscious.
15. The winds started to quaver the leaves, creating a soothing rustle in the trees.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/quaver>