

RABBLEMENT

Meaning: RABBLEMENT (noun): A disorderly crowd or group of people, often expressing agitation or protest.

1. The rabblement gathered in the town square, their voices rising in a cacophony of protest.
2. As the rabblement swelled, it became clear that the community's frustrations had reached a boiling point.
3. In the midst of the chaos, the leader struggled to address the concerns of the rabblement effectively.
4. The rabblement's demands echoed through the streets, demanding justice and accountability from their leaders.
5. With a sense of urgency, the officials sought to disperse the rabblement before the situation escalated further.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rabblement>