

RANCIDLY

Meaning: RANCIDLY: in a manner that is unpleasantly stale or spoiled, typically referring to food that has developed a foul odor or taste.

1. The milk had gone rancidly sour, leaving a pungent odor in the fridge.
2. She remembered the rancidly sweet smell of the old cheese that had been forgotten in the back of the cupboard.
3. The rancidly stale bread crumbled at the touch, unfit for even the birds.
4. He spoke rancidly about his former colleagues, bitterness oozing from each word.
5. The rancidly fatty remnants of last night's dinner lingered unpleasantly in the air.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rancidly>