

RAPPROCHEMENT

Meaning: Rapprochement is the establishment or re-establishment of harmonious relations between parties, often after a period of conflict or tension.

1. The two countries finally reached a rapprochement after years of diplomatic tensions.
2. Her efforts at rapprochement with her estranged friend were met with cautious optimism.
3. In the wake of the scandal, the organization sought a rapprochement with its disillusioned members.
4. The leaders emphasized the importance of rapprochement in fostering regional stability and cooperation.
5. Despite their differences, the two factions managed to find common ground for a rapprochement.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rapprochement>