

RATIONALIST

Meaning: A rationalist is a person who believes that reason and logical deduction are the primary sources of knowledge, prioritizing them over sensory experience and emotion.

1. The philosopher was often criticized for his rationalist views that prioritized reason over emotion.
2. As a rationalist, she believed that human beings could derive knowledge through logical deduction rather than sensory experience.
3. His rationalist approach to problem-solving allowed him to find solutions that others overlooked.
4. In debates, the rationalist emphasized the importance of evidence and logical consistency in forming arguments.
5. Many rationalists argue that faith should not interfere with the pursuit of scientific understanding.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rationalist>