

REACTIONIST

Meaning: Reactionist: a person or ideology that opposes progressive change and advocates for the preservation of traditional values and established norms.

1. The reactionist approach to politics often opposes progressive change in favor of traditional values.
2. In discussions about social reform, some individuals adopt a reactionist stance, fearing the loss of established norms.
3. The reactionist's criticism of modern art reflects a deep-seated preference for classical techniques and styles.
4. As a reactionist, she believed that the rapid pace of technological advancement was detrimental to society.
5. His reactionist views often alienated him from his more liberal peers during debates on climate change.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reactionist>