

REBATE

Meaning: A rebate is a partial refund or discount given to a buyer after a purchase or as a financial incentive.

1. The company offered a generous rebate to customers who purchased their new laptop model.
2. After filing her taxes, she eagerly awaited the rebate check that she had been promised.
3. Many retailers provide a rebate as an incentive to encourage consumers to buy their products.
4. He was pleasantly surprised to find a rebate on his utility bill for energy-saving improvements.
5. To maximize savings, she always looks for items that come with a mail-in rebate option.
6. The store offered a generous rebate on all electronic purchases during the holiday season.
7. After submitting the necessary paperwork, I received a rebate check in the mail a few weeks later.
8. Many consumers are unaware that they can claim a rebate for their energy-efficient appliance purchases.
9. The rebate program was designed to encourage more people to switch to renewable energy sources.
10. She was thrilled to discover that her recent car purchase qualified for a substantial manufacturer rebate.
11. The store offered a generous rebate on the new appliances to attract more customers.
12. After submitting the necessary paperwork, she eagerly awaited her tax rebate check in the mail.
13. Many manufacturers provide a rebate on their products to encourage consumers to make a purchase.
14. He was pleasantly surprised to find out that the rebate on his car purchase significantly reduced the total cost.
15. To take advantage of the rebate, you must complete the online form before the deadline.
16. The store offered a generous rebate on new appliances during the holiday sale.
17. After submitting the necessary paperwork, she eagerly awaited her tax rebate.
18. Customers were pleased to learn that they could receive a rebate for their energy-efficient upgrades.

19. He decided to take advantage of the rebate program to lower the cost of his new car.

20. The company announced a special rebate for loyal customers who purchased their products online.

21. The store offered a generous rebate on all electronics during the holiday sale.

22. After submitting the required paperwork, she received a substantial rebate on her car purchase.

23. Many consumers are attracted to credit cards that provide cash back rebates on everyday spending.

24. He was pleasantly surprised to find out that his utility company was issuing a rebate for energy-efficient appliances.

25. The government introduced a rebate program to encourage homeowners to invest in solar energy systems.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rebate>