REBOANT

Meaning: Reboant (verb): to become lively or vibrant again, especially after a period of dormancy or decline.

1. The ancient tree seemed to reboant with life as spring arrived.
2. After the storm, the landscape appeared to reboant, bursting with vibrant colors.
3. Her spirit began to reboant after hearing the good news about her promotion.
4. The once desolate town found ways to reboant, attracting new businesses and residents.
5. As the music played, the dancers reboant in rhythm, embodying the joy of celebration.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reboant