

REBUTTAL

Meaning: Rebuttal: a response or argument that contradicts or refutes a previous statement or claim.

1. The lawyer presented a compelling rebuttal to the accusations made against her client.
2. In his rebuttal, the author addressed previous criticisms of his work with well-researched counterarguments.
3. During the debate, she delivered a sharp rebuttal that left the opposing team momentarily speechless.
4. The professor encouraged students to prepare a rebuttal for the arguments they disagreed with in class discussions.
5. His rebuttal was not just a defense, but a strategic move that altered the entire direction of the conversation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rebuttal>