

RECONSECRATION

Meaning: Reconsecration is the act of dedicating or sanctifying something again, particularly in a religious context, such as an altar or place of worship.

1. The church held a grand ceremony for the reconsecration of its altar after extensive renovations.
2. After years of disrepair, the community celebrated the reconsecration of the historic chapel with a special mass.
3. The bishop announced the reconsecration of the sanctuary, marking a new chapter in its history.
4. During the reconsecration, the congregation reflected on the spiritual significance of the space they cherished.
5. The ritual of reconsecration served to renew the faith of the parishioners and strengthen their bond with the sacred site.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reconsecration>