

RECRIMINATORY

Meaning: Recriminatory refers to expressing or involving accusations and blame in a mutual exchange, often during a conflict or argument.

1. The discussion quickly turned into a recriminatory exchange, with both sides blaming each other for the failure.
2. In their heated argument, the recriminatory tone made it impossible to find any common ground.
3. Her letter was filled with recriminatory remarks that only deepened the rift between them.
4. The meeting devolved into a recriminatory session where colleagues pointed fingers instead of offering solutions.
5. Recriminatory behavior often hinders effective communication and resolution of conflicts.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/recriminatory>