

RECUBATION

Meaning: Recubation is the process of repositioning a patient, particularly in a clinical setting, to enhance comfort and optimize respiratory support during recovery.

1. Recubation is often essential in clinical settings to ensure patient comfort and safety during recovery.
2. The process of recubation can significantly impact the overall effectiveness of ventilation strategies in intensive care units.
3. After a long surgery, recubation was necessary to adjust the patient's airway management.
4. In certain cases, recubation must be performed with utmost care to avoid complications.
5. Healthcare professionals must be well-trained in recubation techniques to provide optimal care.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/recubation>