

REDINTEGRATION

Meaning: Redintegration is the psychological process of recalling a memory by retrieving associated cues or sensory experiences.

1. Redintegration refers to the psychological process of recalling a memory by retrieving related cues.
2. The concept of redintegration is essential in understanding how memories can be revived through sensory experiences.
3. In therapy, redintegration techniques are often used to help patients access repressed memories.
4. The artist's work exemplifies redintegration, where fragments of the past are pieced together to form a cohesive narrative.
5. During the lecture, the professor explained how redintegration could lead to both accurate and distorted recollections of events.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/redintegration>