

REDISPOSE

Meaning: Redispose: to alter or change one's feelings, attitudes, or priorities regarding a situation or matter.

1. The unexpected news seemed to redispose her feelings towards the entire situation.
2. After a long discussion, they managed to redispose the team's priorities for the project.
3. The therapist suggested exercises that could help redispose his negative thoughts into positive ones.
4. In light of the new evidence, the committee decided to redispose their initial conclusions.
5. Changing his environment might help redispose his mindset and foster greater creativity.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/redispose>