

REDRAFT

Meaning: To redraft means to revise or rewrite a document or manuscript to improve its content or clarity.

1. The author decided to redraft the manuscript after receiving constructive feedback from the editor.
2. In order to improve clarity, the team agreed to redraft the proposal before submitting it to the board.
3. After several discussions, she chose to redraft her thesis to better reflect her research findings.
4. He was advised to redraft his speech to make it more engaging for the audience.
5. The committee recommended that they redraft the policy document to address the concerns raised during the meeting.
6. The team decided to redraft the proposal after receiving feedback from the stakeholders.
7. She spent the afternoon trying to redraft her essay to improve clarity and coherence.
8. It's essential to redraft your application before submitting it to ensure it meets all guidelines.
9. After the first round of edits, the author was eager to redraft the manuscript for a second review.
10. They agreed to redraft the contract to include additional terms that better protect both parties.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/redraft>