

REEK

Meaning: Reek (verb): to emit a strong, unpleasant odor.

1. The old gymnasium still seemed to reek of sweat and stale popcorn long after the championship game.
2. After the heavy rain, the alley began to reek of rotting garbage and mildew.
3. His shoes reeked of fish after he returned from the market with his fresh catch.
4. The abandoned house reeked of mold and decay, making it clear no one had lived there for years.
5. Even after washing it multiple times, the fabric still reeked of smoke from the bonfire.
6. The abandoned house began to reek of mold and decay after years of neglect.
7. After cooking the fish, the kitchen reeked of a pungent odor that lingered for hours.
8. He accused his neighbor of trying to cover up the smell that reeked from his garbage cans.
9. As the sun set, the air began to reek of smoke from the nearby bonfire.
10. Her shoes reeked of sweat after a long day of hiking in the heat.
11. The old cheese in the fridge began to reek, filling the kitchen with a pungent odor.
12. After the heavy rain, the garbage left on the street started to reek of decay.
13. His shoes reeked of sweat after a long day of hiking in the sun.
14. The abandoned building reeked of mold and neglect, a clear sign of years without care.
15. Even before entering the room, I could tell it would reek of smoke and stale beer.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reek>