

REFECTORY

Meaning: Refectory: a dining hall, especially in a school or religious institution, where meals are served.

1. The students gathered in the refectory for their midday meal.
2. After the long morning of classes, the refectory was bustling with laughter and chatter.
3. The monks ate silently in the dimly lit refectory, reflecting on their day.
4. Renovations to the old refectory have made it a more inviting space for communal dining.
5. During the charity event, the refectory served as the perfect venue for the feast.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refectory>