

REFINEMENT

Meaning: Refinement is the process of improving something by making it more sophisticated, elegant, or polished in style or quality.

1. Her poetry reflects a remarkable refinement of language and emotion.
2. The chef's culinary skills had reached a level of refinement that impressed even the most discerning critics.
3. With each iteration of the design, there was a noticeable refinement that enhanced its elegance and functionality.
4. The artist's work displayed a meticulous refinement, capturing intricate details that brought the subject to life.
5. In her speech, she spoke with such refinement that it captivated the entire audience.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refinement>